SUBJECT: Allergen information and shelf life of MEGAFLOA 9 powder

We are pleased to inform you about some outstanding news on our probiotic mixture Megaflora 9.

Product free from allergens

So far, the technical specifications of Megaflora 9 indicated the possible presence of traces of the following allergens:

- Milk and its derivatives (including lactose)
- Soy and its derivatives.

It was necessary to declare these allergens, because the use of some nutrients in the growth medium could leave traces of those allergens in the product. After a deep analysis of several batches and the evaluation of the production process, the manufacturer guarantees the total absence of allergens in Megaflora 9 powder.

4 years self-life

After finishing the stability test in real time, the manufacturer guarantees 48 months of stability for Megaflora 9 in its original packaging when stored at room temperature. This property has positioned Megaflora 9 as the unique probiotic and prebiotic blend in the market, with the highest stability and without the need to keep the product refrigerated.
